Food

We use Manna Pro Select . You will receive enough that you can transition to a different type of food but just double check with us to make sure it is right for a young rabbit, we make two other suggestions below. .

Manna Pro Select Pro Formula Rabbit Food	This is what we use! We sell a 25lb bag for $20 , it will last you a long time, if interested please let us know ahead of pickup!
Oxbow Essentials Young Rabbit Food	Another top Rated food for young bunnies!	https://prf.hn/l/Lb1LQgg
Kaytee Timothy Complete		https://prf.hn/l/gANBJal

Hay

Hay should play an important role in a rabbit's diet. Grass hay (ex: timothy) should be introduced from the start. This is the gentlest food on the gut and will provide the fiber needed for the digestive process to function. Young rabbits can also have alfalfa, which looks a bit like chopped up hay but is made from lucerne rather than grass. It is higher in calcium and protein than grass hay, which is ideal for growing rabbits but too rich for adults. If you are feeding alfalfa it's a good idea to feed it mixed with grass hay. This stops your rabbits getting so hooked on alfalfa that it's difficult to make the transition to only grass hay.
